Experience has shown that the greatest property loss occurs in January during the period of the most severe winter weather and simultaneous with some of the most direful tragedies to präirie residents.

In the light of these facts, it would seem almost unnecessary to issue warnings to people to refrain from using inflammable liquids to hasten fires, to make sure that all healting apparatus is in safe condition to withstand a long siege and to exercise care when smoking. But such warnings are issued frequently by authorities and still the tragedies and losses continue.

Terrifying Air Death Ray Can Explode A Piane At Sixty Miles Distance

That he had received a private invitation to carry out tests of his "electric death ray" in England, has been disclosed in Copenhagen by M. Ravn, the Danish engineer. He daclares that the ray will cause aircraft to explode in the air at a distance of 60 miles. M. Ravn will accept the invitation on certain conditions, chiefly concerning the electric potential with which he works. This is very high and involves risk. The inventor states that he can produce an effective "death ray" apparatus within six months. M. Favn claims to have invented the "death ray" for use against aircraft in the early days of the World War.

BLAIRMORE'S "tough spot" gets into the news again. so that no copies will be missed. This vice resort long tolerated by the local authorities reflects nothing but discredit on those responsible for permit-ting it. It becomes so blatant that one cannot ignore it, if they wished to. What may escape notice in a big city sticks out like a festering sore in a small community.

PREMIER ABERHART'S Sunday discourse on governmental affairs stressed the fact that the great danger to time of tha Sunday evening service; the Social Credit movement is not outside interests, but dissension and impatience among his own followers. So many day at 7 30 pm. The Ladies have apparently badgered him for jobs that he states "he Home League will meet as usual at who may have voted for Social Credit merely for what he 7 on Tuesday evening might get out of it was not a true supporter." He read one threatening letter from a half-baked voter who demanded his dividend by Christmas, or there would be trouble. Mr. Aberhart was so emphatic in promising $25 a month that eighteen months or longer is too long to wait for those who took Mr. Aberhart's promise too seriously. He blames the delay largely on the fact that he found an empty treasury when he took office, and Social Credit cannot be put into force until after the budget had been balanced. So another golden dream goes a-glimmering. The cultural heritage in the shape of our natural resources is not of value until use can be found for the products of these resources, and the market certainly does not begin to absorb more than a very small part of these resources. Take coal as an example. The problem of raising and distributing $120,000 a year in dividends is a greater problem than ever, especially in view of the fact that $16,000,000 is required from the Federal government to clean up pressing liabilities left as a legacy by the former government, all of which and more has to be repaid. Governments, no more than individuals, can spend more than they receive without getting into a financial bog. The electors who voted for $25 a month should realize this.

DESPITE all these ups and downs, the world progresses. Even Coleman benefits from cheaper lighting, steadier employment, very few to be taken care of by the relief agencies, three square meals a day and a substantial payroll every two weeks. Remember, these things did not come by ST. ALBAN'S CHURCH, COLEMAN accident, but by foresight, energy and the ability of a few Next Sunday is the 22nd after men to put ideas into practice, so that hundreds might be supported by the state of the state o Services will be as fol. efit. neip, not knowing there was a telephone nearby at the lake power plant, neither did she know of Stephenson's gas station. She remain: 4 S. D'Appolonia, James plant, neither did she know of Steker, Maurice W. Cooke, Walter ed with her dead sister till after 11

p.m., when the doctor and police came, and she was brought in in an auto coming from B.C. Her sister.

The deceased was originally in Hanna, Alberta, which is her mother's address auto coming from B.C. Her sister was brought to Coleman by a truck sent out by Sentinel Motors.

She heard her sister scream just once when the crash came. She was positive there were two headlights on the car at the time of the crash, and when it stopped it was half on the road and half in the ditch facing west, some distance west of the bridge.
Permission being given her to make a statement to the jury, she said it was a sad accident and did not wish to see anyone having to pay more than they had already suffered Under questioning by Corporal Crump, R.C.M.P., it was elicited that the night of the fatality Mae Cudmore stated ehe did not know where Koska was.

Reginald Whittemore, earpenter, of Bull River, B.C., driving east-ward that night, was stopped at the scene of the tragedy by Mae Cudmore. He did not see Koska anywhere. Eli Therrault, with this witness, said it was difficult too see the road at times, and they were eeding slowly when they reach-

Walter Frederickson of Sentinel Motors gave evidence of the condi-tion of the car and damage. The right lamp was found under the bridge, steering gear and brakes were in good order. One lamp was still in good shape, with one fila. ment broken, but still serviceable and able to give light.

Constable Foster gave evidence of receiving the report and with Constable Smith arriving at the scene at 10.80. He met Dr. McLean and witness Whittemore with the injured man Brobosky proceeding to Coleman. He allowed the car to proceed into Coleman and continued west. In the wrecked car he found Leona Cudmore dead, and had her placed on the Sentine Motors truck, accompanying body to Coleman. He took notes of damage, markings on the car, road tracks and other details.

Corporal Crump and Constable Bryenton gave evidence of making a patrol between 7.30 and 9 30 p.m. to Crows Nest lake, and passing a Pontiac car as they came back to wards Coleman. One light was out. but as the car was travelling very fast, they were unable to signal it in time to stop, and there-was no place near to turn around. Time told he was wanted by the R.O.M.P.

He started to tell Sweeney something, but the latter told him not to talk, as it was none of his business, and held him till he was taken over by police from Blairmore.
Exic Venier, watchman at the C,P R roundouse, told of Koeks coming there, half frozen, and staying till the westbound passenger train arrived, when he went with him to the station. During that time Koska appeared quits when caused death, which consisted on chest and grazes on one hand, the head wound alone sufficient to that time Koska appeared quits with the cause death. The jury were out for a consideration of the tragedy.
